Hundreds of automobile loads of merry makers and vacationers formed a big continuous procession bound for the hills on the Ukiah-Tahoe highway, all day Sunday and today.

The Traffic Officers ball at Lake Olympia tonight, the special programs staged at Twin Cities Pleasure hall, and at all the nearby recreation resorts for Sunday, today and tomorrow, in themselves are attracting a large concourse of people from the valley.

PAY DAY IN C. C. C. CAMP BOOMS BUSINESS

Pay-day at the Civilian Conservation Camps in the Tahoe National Forest brought a small business boom to Nevada City last Friday.

The 4,000 men of the different camps got $6 each. For many it was the first money earned in many months .The balance of their wages is sent to dependents.

Hundreds of these boys swarmed to town and enjoyed ice cream and attending the movies.

The boys were given a four day holiday to last until after the Fourth of July.

About 100 boys from the North Bloomfield camp came to Nevada City late Friday and most of them enjoyed a tamale feed and then started hitch hiking to their homes in San Francisco and Burlingame for the short holiday.

Several local merchants spoke in the highest and kindest terms of the boys as they made their purchases in Nevada City.

S. P. 45 PCT. CUT IN FARES OKED

Application of the Southern Pacific Company to reduce coach and tourist sleeping car fares 45 per cent has been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission and various state regulatory bodies.
nounced yesterday.

Effective July 1 between all stations on the company's lines in six western states, th enew tariff establishes a basic one-way fare of two cents a mile for such travel, as compared with the present rate of 3.6 cents a mile.

Plans call for a 90-day experimental period with the intention of making the low fare permanent if warranted by increased patronage, according to Felix S. McGinnis, vice president in charge of system passenger traffic.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

UNWATERING IN CANADA HILL IS DOWN 800 FEET

Impressive progress continues to be made by West Mines Corporation toward recovery of the old Charronnat shaft at the Canada Hill mine, where an average of 30 feet a day has been maintained for the past two weeks.

Approximately 800 feet of the inclined shaft has been unwatered and repaired and exploratory work is being undertaken on several levels which figured prominently in the heavy production from the famous old mine. Folowing a brief interval of heavy ground which checked the rate of speed for a few days, the shaft is again found to be in splendid shape, with no timbering required, thus making for improved progress. This is also facilitated by the fact that the stoped area becomes more limited as depth is attained.

Water from the adjoining Greenman property comes through on the second and third levels and this inflow has been partly taken care of by ejectors. It is planned to put in a small electric pump to handle all this flow, making it unnecessary to care for it at added depth as the unwatering advances. As most of the water which the mine is now making comes from this source, a substantial saving in pumping is expected to be effected and increased progress in unwatering will be attained.

SAN JUAN MINE TO RUN TWO MORE TUNNELS

Plans at the San Juan mine near North San Juan call for the running of two more tunnels. A force of men will be put to work as soon as returns are received from the 100 ton ore shipment to Tacoma, Wash.

The main shaft is down 400 feet but for the last two years they have been working on the 200 foot level running an 850 foot drift on a 6 ft. vein and put in a upraise where the rich looking sulphide ore that was shipped, was taken out.

Another prospect shaft has been started on the property within recent weeks that is expected to open up new ground that shows up well on the surface.

Eleven men are employed at the property with C. J. Lyser as superintendent.

NATIVE SONS ACQUIRE CORNER PROPERTY

The Native Sons, Hydraulic Parlor, owners of a half interest in the building at the Northeast corner of Pine and Commercial, have purchased the other half interest from W. Peard. They have decided to raze the wooden second story of the structure.

Mrs. Belle Douglass is spending a few days in Colfax.

SLIPS, FALLS IN BATH ROOM, GASHES BACK

Lisha Curtis of Nevada City, who has not been well for some time entered his bath room last night to take a bath and slipped, falling in such a way as to strike a glass towel rail over the bathtub. A section of the rail broke and the two ends struck him in the back cutting two deep gashes near the small of the back.

The injuries bled profusly and today he was placed under the care of Doctor W. W. Reed.

TRAFFIC FINES FOR 2 YEARS IN JUDGE WINBURNS COURT $5065

Judge Oscar E. Winbun, of the Grass Valley township court, of July 1st. turned over to the county treasury the sum of $340.00, which will be placed in the county road fund. This money will be used to improve the county roads outside of Grass Valley city.

The $340.00 represents the traffic fines for the month of June. The total amount of collected fines for traffic and other offenses coming before the Judge duing the past two fiscal years amounts to $5,065.00.

The fact that in the year 1931 there were thirteen fatilities from automobiles accidents in Nevada County, and that there were only five fatilities from such accidents in 1932, seems to indicate that some substantial progress has been made in the enforcement of the traffic laws in Nevada County.

RAGON MINE INSTALLS NEEDED EQUIPMENT

The new headframe has been completed at the Comstock Gold Point Ragon mine northwest of here and installation of further surface plant and clearing of the old shaft is proceeding rapidly. New electric hoist is being hooked up to replace the temporary gasoline hoist which has been in use. Compressor is being set and another shift will be added within a few days.

Recovery of the caved potion of the shaft has been at the rate of five feet a day, which is expected to be doubled as soon as the third shift comes on. Old timbers are found in fairly sound condition nad it is believed that the end of the cave will be reached within a few sets, when the recovery work will become a pumping job. A new pump is to be installed and will be ready to go into operation as soon as the cave is cleared. Early production is anticipated from the vein tapped by the present shaft and workings but an early drive also will be made on the Merrifield vein.

FRANK MERRIAM TO ENTER RACE FOR GOVERNOR

FRANK C. MERRIAM
Lieutenant Governor, Wants to be State's Head Man.

SACRAMENTO, July 3—(UP)—Perhaps his early newspaper experience taught him the man who gets in on the "ground floor" usually comes in ahead—but at all events Frank F. Merriam is letting no grass grow under the feet of his gubernatorial candidacy.

The republican lieutenant governor has not formally announced his candidacy for his party's nomination in August, 1934 but has made it quite clear he is in the race.

Merriam may set an all-time high for campaign speech making by the Time August rolls around. For months, now, h ehas been traveling one end of the state to the other speaking at every opportunity.

Of course, Merriam hasn't openly entered the campaing. That is, subjects of his many addresses do not bear a distinct political color. But that he is actually out on behalf of his own candidacy is admitted by his friends.

The job of lieutenant governor is an ideal one for a gubernatorial candidate. Ordinarily he has about three and one half months real work every two years. That's when he presides over the senate.

There is, of course, the chairmanship of the advisory pardon board. But that is merely a nominal task involving only the official's presence. The job pays $4,000 annually.

Thus Merriam, like ex-Governor C. C. Young, has ample time on his hands to campaign. Young was lieutenant governor during the Richardson administration. He, too, found the relatively light duties of his office afforded splendid opportunity for campaigning.

Merriam came to California in 1910 and engaged in newspaper work for 11 years on two Long Beach newspapers. He was an assemblyman for 10 years and speaker of the assembly four years. In 1928 he was elected to the state senate and two years later was elected lieutenant governor.

KOPP'S BAKERY BUYS ANOTHER NEW TRUCK

A new six cylinder Dodge panel delivery truck was added to the rolling stock of the Kopp Bakery last Saturday. Already there are two other trucks distributing the bakery products made right here in Nevada City. The new unit will be used for the route now being developed between here and Lake Tahoe. This route will be in charge of William Hatch.

This move reveals Lou Kopp in line with the policy of his father Karl Kopp. He is looking to the future and should this new route prove as satisfactory as the other two have ,new equipment will be added as needed.

MOTOR CAR REPAIR SHOP

W .R. Peck is opening up a general repair shop at 211 South School street, Grass Valley. Peck was formerly with the Nash distributor in San Francisco and he now specilizes in servicing Nash and Plymouth cars for Alfred Phillips of Grass Valley.

Toot! Toot! Narrow Gauge Is Sorry It Is Not Broad Gauge

The Nevada County Narrow Gauge railroad, which grappled so manfully with the snow and ice problem last winter, is now grappling with the problem of taking care of all the traffic that is piled up and pressed down upon it. The officials are wishing that by a bit of magic they could turn the historic old road into a broad gauge.

The road is faced with the problem, (and solving the problem) of running specials for Uncle Sam, bringing in nine carloads of automobiles and trucks for the C. C. C. camps, specials carrying hundreds of C. C. C. camp workers, specials bringing some hundreds of Campfire girls, specials taking out gold ore Nevada county's prnier, peerless product, specials here, and specials there, until the road has become highly specialized, so to speak. This does not take account of specials in Fourth of July beer, and dollar day fares on the S. P. which also call for extra passenger cars and conductors punches.

There is a vast deal of coming and going over the Narrow Gauge. For instance, seventy girls from Camp Celio departed Saturday for their Oakland homes, and seventy more girls came in the same day.—And taking advantage of those dollar days, some scores or hundreds of the C. C. C. boys went to Sacramento or Reno or San Francisco to see the sights over the Fourth. What with shipping ore out and vacationers in, the Narrow Gauge lads find life is just one thing after another, while the stockholders are beginning to count the days until another dividend is declared.

WHY NOT A BAND STAND? ASKS CHIEF ROBSON

"The money that is being given by the businessmen and other citizens of Nevada City to maintain the band concerts throughout the summer has a bearing on the future of the younger generation," earnestly said Mr. Robison at a Bible class meeting of the Methodist church Thursday evening. "We should give financial and moral support to the students, because our interest heartens them in their endeavor. At present they are giving two concerts a week—but where! The only place they have is the balcony of the National hotel. It is not a suitable place and traffic is congested.

"Through the help of the lodges, public subscription, and what the Bible class can do, why couldn't a Band Stand be erected in the Native Daughter's Park and a row of bleachers constructed along the wall by the Alfa Stor?" Mr. Robson closed by stating. "It is a duty developing upon each citizen to maintain a band, such as we have in Nevada City."

A collection was taken up for the new band-stand at the Bible class and it was decided to have a box every Sunday for free-will offerings.

Anyone wishing to contribute should see Mr. Elza Kilroy, who is keeping th elist of subscribers.

WELL, WELL, NEIGHBOR—COME NOW!

Saturday morning, shortly after midnight July 1st, a majority of the City Counsel of Grass Valley met and elected a new set of city officials, including city clerk, city attorney, and other officials, and without formally discharging employes of the former regime, elected a new crew to sweep the streets and generally attend to the municipal housekeeping.

Net results: two crews, the old and the new, out Saturday morning bright and early sweeping and flushing the streets, preparatory to presenting to the world a spotless town for the Fourth; the city hall locked up as tight as a closed bank, in all probability, by the old city employes against the coming of the new city employes anxious to take office.

And through the hills reverberates the chuckles of the old-timers of those robust days of yore. A municipal quarrel of course is always more or less deplorable, but if it gives everybody a laugh along and beyond the Mother Lode, it has its vaues. A good stand-up alnd finish fight at the polls, with honest straight from the shoulder punches, or post election differences that rouse to action, defensive and offensive, indicate a live hustling city. When we consider some cities, populous, wealthy and altogether Babylonian in their grandeur, yet sunk so deep in corruption that Hercules himself could not drag them out, we are deeply content with those that can and do occasionally put on a good municipal fight.

THE VIGIL

Thru the wavering shade of rustling forests,
I followed a trail unused for years,
To a desolate camp where a brooklet chatters
Of the days of gold and the pioneers,
Ruined now are the rough hewn cabins,
Gone are the young hearts gay and bold,
But the scarred earth mutely tells a story
Of their eager and restless quest for gold.

No sound is heard save the brook's light laughter,
And the winds that whisper among the trees,
Bringing strange tales to inland forests
Of throbbing cities and storm swept seas;
But thru the warm air gently stealing,
A wistful fragrance comes and goes,
For here in the lonely, brooding silence,
Year after year has blossomed a rose.

In mountain solitudes all untended,
With lavish beauty serene and fair,
The rose tree graces the camp deserted
And wafts its fragrance upon the air.
Only a rose tree its vigil keeping,
Year after year in sun and dew,
Longing perchance for forms and faces,
And loving voices that once it knew.

Whose were the hands that once carressed it,
Watered and tended with ceaseless care:
What were the words oft whispered to it,
As it grew and budded and blossomed there?
Why does it still live on in beauty,
An exile fair in an alien place,
Lonely, neglected and forsaken,
Adorning the spot with its winsome grace?

Perhaps in the night thru the brooding shadows
There comes a wrath from the days of old,
To fondle again the silken petals
And smile as the fragrant buds unfold;
Perhaps for a time in the magic moonlight,
The empty cabins and ghostly mines
Spring into life as the rose trees watches,
And old friends meet neath the somber pines.

But for one who followed the dim, old pathway,
Dreaming the while of the pioneers,
There were only the brooklet's idle chatter
And haunting visions of long dead years;
Only a rose tree; its vigil keeping
Year after year in shade and shine,
Only silence where once were voices
And sounds of toil from the noisy mine.

WEEKLY COMMENT

By
CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

Personally I did not favor either Sharkey or the elephantine Carnera. It does not matter who won the so called fight, for the so-called championship of the world, because in any case nothing has been proven except that the American sporting public is easy to free from its money. Sharkey can be said to have some brains which he knows how to use. Carnera probably has some of the same grey matter but when it comes to the figuring his manager does that for him and draws a fat percentage of the earnings for making the Arrangements. We have had in America a fair crop of prize fighters, most of them endowed with fairly well developed mentalities. The ones who have finally found themselves without followers should have discovered that lack of brains was the reason, but having none of course they could not make this discovery.

On the road to Alleghany at an elevaiton of about 300 feet above sea level there is a swamp. What drew my attention to it is the fact that it is not a hollow but on the contrary it is in itself a small hillock otherwise it is the same as any other swamp. Surely nature has some peculiar tricks.

There is a racket which should be exposed, viz. a clique of men organize a company for the purpose of operating some industrial concern. After some months for unknown reasons (to the stockholders) the comany finds itself in financial difficulties, unable to meet current obligations, unable to pay the promised dividends or debts. The concern struggles along for a time until the stockholders become disgusted with their investment. Then it is that some of the boys in "the know" see the holders of the stock and persuade them to sell the stock back to the Company for a mere pittance of its supposed former worth. In most cases the security holder is so discouraged with the investment that he is ready to fall for any scheme which will yield even as little as 5c on the dollar. He surrenders the stock and later when enough stock has been bought back to give the "big boys" the control, the company is reorganized and from then on it runs as a paying concern. This racket is called by those familiar with the procedure, "wrecking the outfit." It is just another way to milk funds from the public. Some times the perpetrators find themselves in trouble but generally speaking they get away with it.

George Langley of Langley Park will have a birthday on July 4th guess that is what makes George so independent. Anyway I know that he will have ice cream and cake to celebrate the event. Congratulations George. May you live many more years happily.

OPTIONS ON SEVERAL GRAVEL MINES TAKEN

Mining men have been securing options on vast acreages of gravel properties in the Forest Hill and the Michigan Bluff district in eastern Placer county within the last few weeks.

Lloyd Root, former state mineralogist ,who is interested in mining properties in Willow Valley east of Nevada City, has taken an option on the famous Detert group of about 1500 acres.

Root and M. E. Heiser have also negotiated for other gravel properties in that section. Among them being the James Stewart gravel mines near Gold Run.

Heiser admitted he represented the Engineering Gold Mining Guild, backed by foreign capital. He stated the syndicate plans extensive operations all-over the state.

Don Anderson and Leonard Truscott were home this week end from the C. C. C. Camp at North Blomfield. Don gave the mechanical force of the Nugget a lift while in town Saturday. Both boys like the camp.
